TOUR OFFER

We partner with a highly professional and reputable Tour agency; ask us for more details.

They manage tours for major metal bands!

"Imperative Music Agency sends promotional material to high-quality media outlets (both print and online) to secure reviews and interviews—it is a medium- to long-term effort to earn your place in the music industry, you know. You see, Sepultura achieved good results with their third album; other bands had to release their first and second albums on a small label before moving to a major one. Therefore, the band needs to work on promotion and create better music to achieve better results."
